

Bryan McLane

Current Position: Vice President, National Training Center

Experience: 35 years in Low Voltage Systems

Bryan McLane in the low voltage industry for 35 years in various positions in sales, system design, and management. He is currently Vice President of National Training Center, a training company focused on training in the electrical low voltage field. Training includes:

- Fire Alarm Systems
- Security Systems
- Video Systems
- Access Control Systems

Prior to joining NTC in 2007, Bryan worked as System Design Manager and National Sales Manager for The Systems Depot, a low voltage products distributor (2000-2007).

Bryan worked for ADI, a low voltage distributor from 1990-2000 as Sales and System Design.

Bryan worked for Aritech/Arius, a low voltage distributor, from 1981 – 1990 as Sales and Branch Manager.

Bryan is NICET Certified in Fire Alarm System, Fire Sprinkler Systems, Audio Systems, and CCTV Systems.